Electric Vehicle Charging Association Expands Board of Directors Board grows from three to five members

SACRAMENTO, CA—The Electric Vehicle Charging Association (EVCA) announced the expansion of its Board of Directors today from three members to five in an effort to represent a broader cross section of the electric vehicle charging industry and poise themselves as the premier association of the EV charging industry.

Joining the Board of Directors are Enid Joffe and Scott Jarus. “Our two new board members could not have joined us at a better time. As the adoption of electric vehicles accelerates and the infrastructure to support them is being implemented across the country, EVCA’s expertise is essential in educating and advocating for the expansion of clean transportation technology.,” said EVCA President Terry O’Day. “Bringing on Enid and Jarus will help us to have a stronger and broader voice as we work to ensure EV technology is implemented in a practical and equitable way.”

Enid Joffe is President of Clean Fuel Connection, Inc., Ms. Joffe co-founded the company in 1999 to provide infrastructure sales, installation, service and consulting support for electrical and natural gas vehicles.

Scott Jarus is CEO of EV Connect, Mr. Jarus has been in that role since 2014 and is also an investor and member of the Board of Directors. Prior to joining EV Connect Mr. Jarus led several companies and has a track record of rapid growth and successful outcomes.

Ms. Joffe and Mr. Jarus join Terry O’Day, Vice President of Product Strategy and Market Development at EVgo; Anne Smart, Vice President of Public Policy at Chargepoint; and Abdellah Cherkaoui, Senior Vice President - Government, Automotive & Utilities at Volta on the EVCA Board of Directors.

Established in 2015, EVCA is a not-for-profit trade association that brings together leaders in the EV charging industry to educate policymakers, stakeholders and members of the public about the critical role of EV technology, infrastructure and services and to advocate for policies that will expand clean transportation. Current members are ABM, BTC Power, ChargePoint, Clean Fuel Connection, Inc., Envision Solar, EV Box, EV Connect, EVgo, SemaConnect, and Volta Charging.
